Silver City, New Mex., May 28.—A report has reached here that a small detachment of the Tenth cavalry encountered Chief Geronimo and his band of Apaches in Cook's Canyon, through which the Indians were trying to escape to Mexico. The hostilities were driven back with a loss of four killed and twice as many wounded. Two soldiers were wounded, and owing to their small number the Indians were pursued. The Tenth cavalry are trying to effect a junction with the two companies of the Fourth cavalry when an active pursuit will be made. The Apaches have been joined by a band of Utes and Navajos. The band is composed of nearly 300 warriors. The Indians retreated towards Diamond Creek where their women numbered nearly 100 had proceeded them.

THE CAUSE OF THE OUTBREAK. Washington, May 28.—From correspondence transmitted by the war department to the Indian bureau it appears that the Apache outbreak was caused by whisky. The Indians manufactured large quantities of "tawny" and became intoxicated, and knowing that punishment would follow for violation of the rules, they abandoned the reservation and went on the war-path.

GEN. CROOK ON THE GROUND. San Francisco, May 28.—Gen. Crook has telegraphed from Arizona to the military department: "No more troops needed at present. Troops from Bowie are stationed at St. John's Pass, and those from Hualapai are at the mouth of Guadalupe canon to intercept the hostilities if they should double back to the mouth of the canon trail. Major V. V. V. with eighteen officers, 200 men of the Tenth cavalry, and Capt. Smith with 100 men of the Fourth cavalry, Capt. Pierce and Indian scouts from San Carlos, are at Fort Bayard and east of there co-operating with the troops in New Mexico. Lieut. Davis with fifty Indian scouts from Apache is still on the trail in pursuit into the mountains. What has made it so difficult to get any definite information in regard to the Indians is the rapidity of their march. They made 100 miles in a day, over an exceedingly rough country."

THE FIVE BLOODY MEN. Silver City, May 28.—The Apaches are making a bloody trail through this section. It is now thought that three or four different bands are despoiling and murdering in as many sections of the territory. The hostilities apparently number about 500, and their war chiefs, Geronimo, Matichia and Chihuahua are with them. This morning the troops of a Mexican, his wife and three children were found five miles from here, and another Mexican is known to have been killed in the same vicinity. The Mexicans had been wounded. Poses of the men left here last night and returned to-day for a supply of food.

It is reported that numerous ranches on Bear creek have been sacked, horses stolen and cattle killed. The Indians' trail was followed from there to the Pecos Altas foot-hills. Indians approached to within four miles of Fort Bayard, and three troops of cavalry are now in pursuit, but it is reported that the Indians are doubling on the old trail in the direction of Bear creek. This band numbers about eighty.

Another band on the Gila river drove off 120 head of horses. Two cowboys are missing, and three prospectors have been killed near the south fork of the White Water river, and one, named Joe Rusting, on Magellan creek. The latter made a brave fight and killed three Indians, including a chief. The fight was witnessed by Rusting's partner who succeeded in slaying two Apaches and escaping.

News has just been received of additional killing in the Black Range and families from the surrounding country have all flocked into Silver City, panic-stricken.

More About the Red Devils. Denver, May 28.—The Tribune-Republican's Santa Fe special says: "A detachment of the First cavalry, under command of Capt. Chaffee, have to-day been scouting the San Mateo mountains in hot pursuit of the Indians. The troops are not more than ten or twelve hours behind a flight is expected to-morrow. The killing of off the Apaches is confirmed by the finding of his body about half a mile from where Stevenson and Moreland were slain."

DISASTERS AT DUBLIN. Buildings Unroofed, Houses and Churches Wrecked and Crops Destroyed.

Dublin, Tex., May 28.—This section was visited by the most destructive wind, hail and rain storm ever known in its history, between 4 and 6 o'clock yesterday evening. The principal damage so far as heard from is as follows: W. F. Miller & Co.'s splendid rock millhouse was unroofed, and the damage to the machinery and stock is estimated at $1,000.

The front of J. G. O'Brien's drug store was blown down, and also his barn and fences.

George Ross' dwelling was blown off its foundations.

A. W. Reese & Co.'s agricultural implement house was unroofed, and many other houses were generally shaken up.

In the country, John Gale's residence and a church were blown to ruins.

The water was higher than ever known here. Fences and bridges on all the creeks are washed away, the water in the streets is two feet deep, and the depot everything is swimming.

The damage to crops cannot be estimated, but it is feared that wheat and oats will be a total loss. Dr. He, added just from his farm, 10 miles south, reports the water in a creek four feet higher than he ever knew it before, and the damage to crops is beyond an estimate, though crops in the depot everything is swimming.

Marlin's Misery. Marlin, Tex., May 28.—Fierce rain fell last night and this morning. The Brazos has reached the highest point of the overflow of last spring since it is rising, and the damage being done by the flood cannot be estimated.

The negroes are fleeing from the bottoms, abandoning their homes and no effort to escape, and are immediately arrested and taken to the Central police station, where she told a pitiful story of poverty and despair.

She said she was an English woman from Bristol; was a newspaper writer and had worked in England and Canada; that she came from Toronto to Chicago a short time ago, but not getting employment, she went to the latter place, where she came here a week ago; she was no more successful here and having exhausted her money she became desperate and determined to commit a crime that she might be arrested and thus obtain shelter and food.

She first attempted to forger by signing the name of a prominent broker here to a check and presenting it to a bank but this did not result, and she then wandered about the streets and just before midnight determined to commit burglary, and committed the act as above mentioned.

She was in the pettiway where she will obtain rest and care, and her mind seems to have become morbidly fixed upon this idea. She was lodged in jail here yesterday under a warrant that she ought to be sent to an asylum.

News Notes from the Capital. Washington, May 28.—Secretary Endicott, president of the board recently appointed to examine the fortifications of the United States, has called a meeting of the board to be held at the war department on Wednesday, June 3rd.

The President will leave Washington for New York to-morrow night and will be accompanied by Secretary Vilas and Secretary Lamar in case his health will permit.

A Bank Man's suicide. Edwardsville, Ill., May 28.—At 10 o'clock this morning at Highland, Ill., Maurice Huey committed suicide by shooting himself. Huey was one of the firm of F. Ryker & Co., the late banking firm at Highland, whose failure created so much stir. He was to have had a preliminary examination this morning on the charge of embezzlement.
